

Future

Golden Earring

From the Albums:

* Cut

* Something heavy going down You better get out of the line of fire

If you wanna stay alive

I always knew it would take a liar

In this brave new world to survive

It's gonna happen in the future

It didn't happen in the past

Rule and devide and control the seven seas

Your power and pride guarantee defeat

So fine, your lips on mine light a dangerous flame

When love grows in exile

It'll find you back again

They shot you down on the steps of a white house

Climbin' out to rescue me

They said you made a giant step for mankind

But the plate's still empty c'est la vie

It's gonna happen in the future

It didn't happen in the past
