

If eyes could speak

Devon Werkheiser

Standing close to me close enough
To reach perfect time to tell her
But I can't even put the words together
Paralizing eyes, getting my disguise
Can't you see me hiding? What am I afraid of her finding?
I know what I'm thinking
But the words won't come out If eyes could speak
One look would say everything
About the way you smile
The way you laugh, the way you dress
The way your beauty leaves me breathless If eyes could speak
I wouldn't have to talk Here we go again
Trying to pretend my hands are steady
The way she looks tonight isn't helping Vision's getting blur, gotta calm my nerves
It's now or never
There's only one way to the answer I know what to tell her
But the words won't come out If eyes could speak
One look would say everything
About the way you smile
The way you laugh, the way you dress
The way your beauty leaves me breathless If eyes could speak
I wouldn't have to talk Maybe I can finally get it right
Finally get the nerve to speak my mind
And tell you the things I can't say
And baby, I would look into your eyes
And maybe you will finally realize
Words are just words anyway If eyes could speak
One look would say everything
About the way you smile
The way you laugh, the way you dress
The way your beauty leaves me breathless If eyes could speak
I wouldn't have to talk I tell you all about the way you smile
The way you laugh, the way you dress
The way your beauty leaves me breathless If eyes could speak
I wouldn't have to talk.....
If eyes could speak.....

Songwriters

Devon Werkheiser;Rune Westberg;Adam Paul ConwayPublished by RUNE WESTBERG MUSIC PUBLISHING Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>