Midnight Tears

Hank Locklin

Those midnight tears find me in the darkness
They make a moanful sound
No one sees and no one hears
My midnight tears, falling downMy friends wonder how Im doing
They look for the proof in my eyes
But theyll never know how my heart is breaking
Oh, how you can make a man cry?Those midnight tears, find me in the darkness
They make a moanful sound
No one sees and no one hears
My midnight tears falling downIm stronger with each brand new morning
I wake up swearing, I dont miss you
But till I learn to dry
The pain of goodbye
Theres a nightly routine I go throughThose midnight tears, find me in the darkness
They make a moanful sound
No one sees and no one hears
My midnight tears falling down
My midnight tears falling down
