Over & Out

Mourning Widows

Over and out, I got your message
Love is a neverending landscape
A holiday dream I paid for in cash
Going for broke, my spine has collapsed
In seconds the lid blew off of the sky
Crashing the sun right down on my life
Mary the mother, Eve the lover
Marching in heaven they run for cover
I can't believe I've fallen again, not again
I know I've seen this movie before, once again
How it ends. Me, myself, and I.
I gave you every inch of my heart
Every little inch of my heart
I can't believe you took it apart
Every little inch of my heart
I gave you every inch of my heart
Every little inch of my heart
Remember we always keep what we lose
The mirror will always give back your face
Last night I saw the world in your face
Seeing it was the scariest place
And all that was abstract turns to concrete
Suddenly love is an empty house
Over and out I got your message
Over and out I get the message
I can't believe I've fallen again, not again
I know I've seen this movie before, once again
How it ends. Me, myself, and I.
I gave you every inch of my heart
Every little inch of my heart
I can't believe you took it apart
Every little inch of my heart
I gave you every inch of my heart
Every little inch of my heart
Love is a neverending landscape
A holiday dream paid for in cash
Going for broke my spine has collapsed
In seconds the lid blew off of the sky
Crashing the sun right down on my life

Over and out
I got your message
Over and out I get the message

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/