

Time Stands Still

Anna F.

no words need to enter our lips the sun is tickling our cheeks this warm
breeze draws circles in the sand the wind is dancing on our hands then we just run
through the sun
then we just run
through the sun
i wish that
time stands still
only for a while
time stands still
if only for a while

time stands still. i'm breathing the scent of the sun going down

we hear both our feet landing on the ground the stillness tastes just like sweet milk foam
our inner voice shows us the way back home then back we run
through the sun
then back we run
through the sun
i wish that time
stands still
only for a while...
