

One Way Mirror

Southerland Nights

When I close my eyes
I see a place for you and I
So cold we can see our breath
The Northern Lights reflect your grace
We are falling through horizons endlessly
I know your heart's a one-way mirror
I can't believe I didn't see it sooner
Bedroom eyes, I'll know tonight
Caught in a dreamlike romance
Stranded here in no mans land
Burning the candle at both ends
Sleepless nights reckless abandon
I promise you do you trust me?
It's our fate it must be
We are falling through horizons endlessly
I know your heart's a one-way mirror
I can't believe I didn't see it sooner
Bedroom eyes, I'll know tonight
Close your eyes and tell me what do you see?
Aging by the minute, imagination set to infinite
Day by day you're losing grip so lets lose control!
Limitless indulgences swimming in the heat of motion
Binding to the tides of friction, lets lose control!
Screaming when no one listens senseless little superstitions
Losing all your inhibitions, lets lose control!
I know your heart
I can't believe
I saw what I
I'm sorry I
