

Immense Malignancy

Monstrosity

[Lyrics: L. Harrison; music: Monstrosity]Decrepit, replete with misery the elders lie diseased
and are dead or dying Dilapidated, we feel tortured
You live the life of a corpse its the destiny of your deathThis malignancy is so immense and in the end you'll all die off A living carcass that is soon to crumble and leave this feeding ground of the deadErosion of your carcass your skin begins to tatter as the worms consume your brain Weathered your life corrodes [misspelled as "carrodes" in CD liner notes] trapped in horror while your body bio-degradesThis malignancy is so immense
and in the end you'll all die off
A living carcass that is soon to crumble and leave this feeding ground of the deadDecrepit, replete with misery
the elders lie diseased
and are dead or dying
Dilapidated, we feel tortured
You live the life of a corpse
its the destiny of your deathThis malignancy is so immense
and in the end you'll all die off
A living carcass that is soon to crumble and leave this feeding ground of the dead
