I'll Give

Smalltown Poets

Yesterday I lived for me
And I was so alone as I could be
Then I saw you and how you give yourself away
And I want to live for you todayI'll give, I'll hold nothing
I'll give and I'll hold nothing backMy love is a lot like me
Wanting nothing less than everything
But I know, you're the only love that's true
And only giving makes me close to youMy hands are open, so take what you see
And I'll keep nothing, hold nothing back from me
