My Love

The Czars

If you are lucky, lucky enough today
To have someone
To whom you feel you got something to say
Dont think it over, dont let 'em slip awayHe read to her from his poetry
But that could never be enough
To really make her see
So he climbed up high into a tree
Made the choice to turn into a leafIf you are lucky, lucky enough today
To have found a love
To whom you feel you got something to say
Dont think it over, its gonna be okayRead to her from his poetry
But that could never be enough
To really make her see
So he climbed up high into a tree
Made the choice to turn into a leaf
