

Downtown Letdown

Louden Swain

The sun is high and I'm gettin' up
And I think I might finally be giving up
Boots are tight when I'm standin' up
They tap on the glass of my half empty cup

And you say, 'Change your ways'
I really don't think that I could.
Been walkin' 'round with my
Head hangin' down
And I really don't think that I should.

Gonna head Downtown.
Let down.

Can't hide behind your preconceived
Notions of who you think I should be.
Hold my tongue if you have a vice
If you press hard enough I might try to play nice.

And you say, 'Change your ways'
I really don't think that I could
Been walkin' 'round with my
head hangin' down
And I really don't think that I should.

Gonna head Downtown.
Let Down.

Oooh.

I don't wanna be what I'm not
it's wasted energy
Nothing left for me

I am dying if I'm not elated
I'm not anything
If I don't feel a beating

And I don't feel a beating
No I don't feel no beating

No I don't feel no beating

Heart.

The moon is mine and I'm headin' up
And I think I will rise, I will rise up.
The moon is mine and I've had enough.
And I think I will rise, I will rise

Up.

Up.

And you say, 'Change your ways'
I really don't think that I could
Been walkin' 'round with my
head hangin' down

Gonna head Downtown.
Let Down.

Let down.

Let Down.

---

Lyrics submitted by Luci.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>