Together

Kina Grannis

One time I dreamt an unknown land
With jungle trees and the blackest sand
Had taken us as prisoners in the night
Upon its shore we could not sleep
Instead we stayed awake to keep
Our minds off hidden monsters and the like
So hour by hour we passed the time
We watched a motion picture in the sky
You were the clouds and I was the moon
You and me, together, together, together

Then waves came crashing down on me
And they tried to take me out to sea
You fought them off so gallantly and won
Now back again upon our shore
Well we really wanted nothing more
Than to hold each other 'til our arms grew tired
So slowly like a timid flower
The sun rose up at just the hour
When we had slowly slipped out of my dream
You and me, together, together, together
You and me, together, together, together
Together is all we need
