

Can't Break a Broken Heart (Live in Hamburg)

Nick Howard

Slow down, Babe I need a second now
To breath out, feel myself again
I don't know how, scrape myself of the ground
And get you out from under my skin But now I've been shattered and I gone through the pain
I can't be broken again You can try and tear me down, but it don't hurt no more
So try and wear me out, like you've done before
You've already done your worse
Tore my world apart
You can try and tear me down
But you can't break a broken heart (whistle) Three days and I can't take you off my mind
Replace the space in my bed
Just three words, they don't sound the same no more
And I wish that I can feel them once again But now I've been shattered and I gone through the pain
I can't be broken again You can try and tear me down, but it don't hurt no more
So try and wear me out, like you've done before
You've already done your worse
Tore my world apart
You can try and tear me down
But you can't break a broken heart (whistle) 2x I have sewn up each and every scar
Try to fix this paper heart
But it's never gonna be the same, never be the same
You can try and try but I'm immune
There's nothing more that you can do
My heart cannot be broken, never broken again You can try and tear me down, but it don't hurt no more
So try and wear me out, like you've done before
You've already done your worse
Tore my world apart
You can try and tear me down
But you can't break a broken heart (whistle)
Can't break, break, break a broken heart (whistle)
You can't break a broken heart, heart, heart
Oh you can't break a broken heart (whistle)
