Hollis Brown

May the light shine down upon your shoulder,
Upon your shoulder, and show you the way
And may you be blessed, by the hands of mercy,
May the hands of mercy, show you the way
Lonely child, left alone
Your beautiful journey, will lead to salvation, and bring you
Back homeMay life protect you, and all that you value,
May all that you value be worthy and true
May every child, be able to eat, drink the fresh water,
And work on the line.
Your beautiful journey will lead to salvation and bring you
Back homeMay the light shine down upon your shoulder,
Upon your shoulder, and show you the way
And may you be blessed, by the hands of mercy,
May the hands of mercy, show you the way
Lonely child, left alone
Your beautiful journey, will lead to salvation, and bring you
Back homeYour beautiful journey, will lead to salvation, and bring you
Back home, bring you back home.
