

Friends

Big Wreck

In the post storm winds
As the ending now begins
We knew we'd fall apart
With a best friend burned
And diminishing returns
You know you went too far Well, all I'd needed was
An non cold shoulder
Found and never thawed One more day just fades away
With words too proud to say
And my head's still overflowing With swallowed sorries, no rewinds
Good friends are hard to find
Sometimes I mind this never knowing
Help And, it dawned on me
I saw the forest for the trees
And finally came around
We were upside down
Tryin' to polish up a sound, but
Couldn't see past the ground And now we're stuck
Up in a pregnant pause
But we're not barefoot at all
And everybody lives with old regrets
That we pile behind those walls As one more day just fades away
With words too proud to say
And my head's still overflowing With swallowed sorries, no rewinds
Good friends are hard to find
Sometimes I mind this never knowing
Help Now we're stuck up
In a pregnant pause
But we're not barefoot at all
And everybody lives with old regrets
That we pile behind those walls As one more day just fades away
With words too proud to say
And my head's still overflowing With swallowed sorries, no rewinds
Good friends are hard to find
Sometimes I mind this never knowing As one more line gets redefined
Good friends are hard to find
Can you feel this distance growing Ah twist and turns
And the remedy burns
You can miss your brother

But you'll never learn
As the path you thought
Assures you'll be denied
Help
