The Club

33 Thieves

If you've ever had someone come along
Reach in, pull out your heart and break it just for fun
As easy as humming a song
Join the clubIf you've ever had nights tossing and turning
Like a cement mixer churning
On your own
In what used to be your happy home
Join the club
Join the clubYou may think you're the only one
But my friend, you're not alone
In the clubIf you've ever walked streets slick with rain
In the cold black night, wracked with the hunger pain
Of a soul starved of love
Join the clubIf you've ever come to and seen that you've been living a dream
One in which no one can hear you scream
Join the club
Join the clubYour story stays outside the door
Cause they've heard it all before
In the clubThis club's not for the happy types
Caught up in pinks and yellows
It's for all the lost and lonely
Broken-hearted fellowsIf you've ever come to and seen that you've been living a dream
One in which no one can hear you scream
Join the club
Join the clubAnd when they ask you why you came Mention my name
In the club
In the club
In the club

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/