

Thinking About Forever

P.O.D.

Time goes by and God knows I try
To carry on with the life
Decide not to hide feelings inside
Even though they hurt sometimes
I forget to remember you
It's easy to lock away these pains
Don't wanna relieve it through
But I stay strong, you taught me how to move on in this world
I married my sweetheart even got a little baby girl
I wish you could see her, I swear she looks just like you
If you can hear me show me a sign
Please send her a butterfly or two I'm thinking about forever
Missing you
I know you're so much better
We made it through Now I know what it means to live for someone else
To give up yourself
Things have changed, at times it gets kind of strange
Your love remains the same
Do I make you proud mama?
Can you see me now?
Whatever is good in me is because you showed me how
To take love by the hand
And so now I can share you with my baby
So that she can understand I'm thinking about forever
Missing you
I know you're so much better
We made it through I'm thinking about forever
Missing you
I know you're so much better
We made it through I'm thinking about forever
Missing you
I'm tripping on whatever
Hearing you
