Don't Want You

Lunachicks

The first day that I saw you, I thought you were so fine
I thought that you could be, that you could be the one
It took me weeks and weeks to get the nerve to talk to you
I had such very high hopes that you could be the oneYou think that you are hot stuff, think that you're pretty cool
But in my deck of cards now you play the fool
And when I look back on it, on all the wasted time
I spent just thinkin' about you and wishin' you were mineI had the fever but the fever is gone
I don't want you anymore
Tryin' to shake you but you're holdin' on
I don't want you anymoreThought you're right but you're Mr. Wrong
I don't want you anymore
Sad but true, I'm over you
I don't want you anymoreWell, I had such very high hopes
That you could be the butter for my toast
Well, in my mind you were red hot
But it turned into a long shotBecause I guessed in time
Well, I just changed my mind
Because I guessed this time
Well, I just changed my mindI didn't mean to win you on
I had the fever for the flavor but the fever is goneStarted off strong but didn't last long
I don't want you anymore
Tryin' to shake you but you're holdin' on
I don't want you anymoreThought you were right but you're Mr. Wrong
I don't want you anymore
Sad but true I'm over you
I don't want, don't want youDon't want you anymore
Don't want you anymore
Don't want you anymore
