

Above All

Anna von Hausswolff

Above all, it remains it remains.
Vulnerable, it remains it remains.
And they say that all has changed,
and from that nothing remains.
Once in a while they hang by their lives
But, when the end comes near, cameras on,
will love disappear?
And they say nothing has changed,
and from that nothing remains.
But as I saw her this night,
her eyes were glooming to find, love and conditions
on dark unfriendly ground.
'Cause she's heading for the rooftops.
She is running and she can't stop
She is heading for the rooftops
She is running and she can't stop."Sit by my bed. Don't be scared!" Grandma said.
"Read for me, Anna Oh be my bread".
And she whispered: "Oh my dear. Death should not be a fear.
So save me this night.
Why won't you save me, from this time?
Why won't you save me, from falling down?
Falling down
Falling down
Falling down."
'Cause she's heading for the rooftops. She is running and she can't stop.
She is heading for the rooftops.
She is running
She is running
She is running
So save her this night.
Why won't you save her from this time?
Why won't you save her from falling down
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.