

Runaways

twocolors

I cannot go, but I want you to know
I cannot fly, but I wanna touch the sky
I cannot speak, but I have to go out and breath
I cannot feel 'cause my heart feels like a spinning wheel
I cannot call, but I want you to know that I'm laying here missing you so These are the days, these are the da-a-ays
We should have left and go all the other ways
These are the days, these are the da-a-ays
Where we feel like runaways
These are the days, these are the da-a-ays
We should have left and go all the other ways
These are the days, these are the da-a-ays
We will remember always I cannot go, but I want you to know I cannot fly, but I wanna touch the sky (I wanna touch the)
I cannot speak, but I have to go out and breath
I cannot feel 'cause my heart feels like a spinning wheel
I cannot call, but I want you to know
that I'm laying here missing you so These are the days, these are the da-a-ays
We should have left and go all the other ways
These are the days, these are the da-a-ays
Where we feel like runaways
These are the days, these are the da-a-ays
We should have left and go all the other ways
These are the days, these are the da-a-ays
We will remember always
