Everything

Jill Phillips

Where perfect dreams meet the perfect life
My days are the richness of your praise
And I cant imagine what it feels like
To fully know all that You sayAnd everything, and everything
And everything is holy, holy, holyAll that I want to say has been said before
So Im glad You know just what I mean
And You're groans express the way I feel right now
'Cause above all else I want to beWhere everything, and everything
And everything is holy, holy, holyAnd everything, and everything
And everything is holy, holy, holyI would not have to fear anymore
All Id be capable of would be holy, holy, holy, holy
And I will, I will not shame Your name anymore
I want to be, I want to beEverything
And everything, and everything
And everything is holy, holy, holyAnd everything, and everything
And everything is holy, holy, holyAnd everything, and everything
And everything is holy, holy, holy
