Beautiful Addiction

Mission Hill

Change the bag, this I.V.'s draining and I'm afraid
I need another taste to keep me high
Inebriated, broken, jaded
Still I need more of you inside
The pain you deal just kills me better
The pain is all that keeps me aliveYou don't need your words to sound like this
I am the hell that saved you
Now, all of your time is wasted through
I am the hell that saved youMaybe it's manipulation, who's to say?
And maybe I'm a fool but it's my life
I hate to love to love to hate you
But there's no end for me in sight
So I'll be hooked on hating you
While you continue to suck me dryYou don't need your words to sound like this
I am the hell that saved you
Now, all of your time is wasted through
I am the hell that saved youYou're just too beautiful, another fool, am I
You want me on my knees
You're just too beautiful, another fool, am I
You got me down on my kneesYou don't need your words to sound like this
I am the hell that saved you
Now, all of your time is wasted through
I am the hell that saved you
That saved you, that saved you, saved you
I am the hell that saved you
