Lift

Strife

when narrow minds meet they will combine, and bound by fear they will divide. but speration can only destroy what`s left. insuring the end of what`s true to me. true to me. in spite of myself i will seclude myself. in spite of what`s right i will exclude you. as it filters into the heart sad minds...filters...i watch it die. i need something to believe in...lift! a fear of what can`t be seen ,building on what it means...lift!...lift my mind my body and my soul. a fear of what can`t be seen, barriers - broken!
