

Still Wanting

Dilana

I'm feeling smothered by the silence
My world is turning inside out
Wreck less promises gone violent
No love was left behind

While you are sweet and gently sleeping
My heart is buried underground
Decayed and lifeless barely beating
Dying just to rise

I'm trapped and consumed I'm, addicted
I'm still wanting you
Abandoned
And shattered
Nothing matters I'd still die for you

You left me dying on the doorstep
Jaded angels wonder why
Was it too much to see me weeping
You never said goodbye

I'm trapped and consumed I'm, addicted
I'm still wanting you
Abandoned
And shattered
Nothing matters I'd still die for you

Cause you heard, heard me, yeah you hurt me, hurt me
And you heard me, heard me, but I'm still wanting you

Why can't I leave you like you left me
Why can't I make you feel this way

I'm trapped and consumed I'm, addicted
I'm still wanting you
Abandoned
And shattered
Nothing matters I'd still die for you

I'd still die for you
