

Orange Sky (Radio Edit)

Oscar and the Wolf

and it's a fun we're hanging on the living chains
the living on come away with me and I drive you into the wild we'll take the blame for you don't lose a flame the sun it turns so blue the water's warm (it's nice) your beauty burns so I will try and fail (here) and do we have a tower/ and now we're out of town to see the clouds change And I will stare beneath/ I could stare beneath the bright orange sky and you all control (?)/ and you're in control the silken light and you take what you want to have (/what you ... left?) what you keep inside summer skin everything we want... /// don't lift the brakes and we don't want to stay here give me your eyes
I'll give my heart for you
