Relinquish

Bloodwire

Still push harder and still the facts remain
Just one to an open end so quickly
A simple step now a small matter of time lest not regret now I'll make you push the line Follow the lead to failure relinquish and pay no mind

Misplace my judgement misstep the card house falls
That will not be my legacy
This whole creation we've built through effort and time
We make this happen we hold together with pride
