

Running Away With My Heart

Tim Ellis

Out of the blue you came to me through all the madness
The distant call of destiny ending the sadness From there beyond the horizon,
Somehow you touch my soul Your love is running away with my heart
Your love is running away x2 The sweetest dream we know is ours full with emotion
Until we kiss we'll share the stars across the ocean Far as the rainbow and sunrise
But still closer than a touch Your love is running away with my heart
Your love is running away x2 The lonely wait for the arms of perfect night
And lay awake in the dark imagined light From there beyond the horizon,
Somehow you touch my soul Your love is running away with my heart
Your love is running away x2
