

Map Of Your Head

Muse

I'm sick of feeling my soul
To people who'll never know
Just how purposeless and empty they've grown
Because their language confuses
Like computers refuse to understand
How I'm feeling todayI'm freezing and losing my way
I don't need another map of your head
I'm freezing and losing my way
I don't need another map of your headI saw a liquid control that gives life to us all
I hit my head on it and woke up to know
That I was all alone
Wearing just socks and a phone
Someone screaming like their world might explodeI'm freezing and losing my way
I don't need another map of your head
I'm freezing and losing my way
I don't want another map of your headFreezing and losing my way
I don't want another map of your head
I'm freezing and losing my way
I don't need another map of your headYeah
