Fuck You Aurora

Alkaline Trio

My, my what a mess we've made

Of our pretty little heads these days

It appears a heavy wind's

Blown through here recently Best wishes have been made for you

You never had no say it's true

You have to be the cutest

Gravedigger I've ever seenAnd all your lonely nights

In the city of lights are much like

All these crowded bars I so often find

My stupid self stumbling throughMy, my what a mess was made of my head

When I heard what you'd been through that day

It appears a violent storm's

Passed through you recentlyLetters meant to be sent have been torn

The phone lies off the hook, on the floor

All these, "I'm sorrys and I miss you's" are useless

I fucked this one up long agoAnd all your lonely nights

In the city of lights are much like

All these crowded bars I so often find

My stupid self stumbling throughFuck you aurora

You took my only friend

And although it's all my fault

The blaming myself had to come to an endSo I say, Fuck you aurora

You took my only friend

You won't catch me behind the wheel

Of a Chrysler ever againMy, my what a mess we've made

Of our precious little lives these days

It appears a big fucking tornado

Has twisted us up recentlyBest wishes have been made for you

You never had no say it's true

You have to be the cutest

Gravedigger I've ever seenAnd all your lonely nights

In the city of lights are much like

All these crowded bars I so often find

My stupid self stumbling throughFuck you aurora

You took my only friend

And although it's all my fault

The blaming myself had to come to an endSo I say, Fuck you aurora

You took my only friend

You won't catch me behind the wheel

Of a Chrysler ever again
