

She Keeps On Coming

Bee Gees

In front and center
I don't know how it happened then
I can't explain it
What was she thinking of when
Of mother nature
She put us both together and
The way she touched me
And I ran that red light
And so I
Said I love her
She tell me I don't matter
I try to kiss her
But every dream is shattered
No early warning
Except the morning after
Look in the mirror like a rabbit in the headlights
She keeps on coming back for more
She keeps on coming back for more
She keeps on coming back for more
Champagne and roses
Breakfast in bed
Wrapped in each other
And out of my head
She keeps on coming back for more
She keeps on coming back for more
Oh no
Oh no
Yeah
Oh no
She ain't no Cleopatra
I ain't no Julius Caesar
I ain't no Casanova
She ain't no Mona Lisa
She charm a nation
She send you out to die
And we were flying when she ran that red light
I ain't no Valentino
She ain't no Greta Garbo
No Aphrodite
I'll never be Apollo
But when we come together

There's no one else can follow
There's no tomorrow when we run that red light
She keeps on coming back for more
She keeps on coming back for more
She keeps on knocking at the door
Drunk in desire
Erotic delights
Sooner or later, she'll kiss you goodnight
She keeps on coming back for more
Ooh
Oh no
Oh no
Oh no
Oh no
Midnight die in the arms of a lover
(Dream time she's mine always here)
Hold tight I close my eyes and she's gone
(Small town daytime disappear)
She keeps on coming back for more
Drunk in desire
Sooner or later, she'll kiss you goodnight
She keeps on coming back for more
She keeps on knocking at the door
She keeps on coming back for more
