

Lost

KT Tunstall

Following my nose
A detective with no lead
Only my dreams know
What's got into me I run by your side
But I'm out of breath
Lower than the sea
And it's killing me, and it's killing me If I choose to go with the way I'm feeling
Does it really mean that's the way it is?
Is it just a trick that my eyes are playing on my mind? Following the passage of least resistance
Following the pack just to pass the gate
It's a little late for a change of plan, don't you think?
I got lost following you, following you There's a camaraderie
In a number for my chest
Do this and do that
And forget the rest But as the tide retreats
It's showing me the shore
There's danger going deeper
But I can't be here anymore
Can't be here anymore If I choose to go with the way I'm feeling
Does it really mean that's the way it is?
Is it just a trick that my eyes are playing on my mind? Following the passage of least resistance
Following the pack just to pass the gate
It's a little late for a change of plan, don't you think?
I got lost following you What did I do that for? Am I an idiot?
What did I do that for? Am I an idiot?
What did I do that, do that for? I run by your side
But I'm out of breath
And it's killing me, and it's killing me If I choose to go with the way I'm feeling
Does it really mean that's the way it is?
Is it just a trick that my eyes are playing on my mind? Following the passage of least resistance
Following the pack just to pass the gate
It's a little late for a change of plan, don't you think?
But I got lost following you Time could have stopped
And I never knew
I got lost following you, following you
