

I Still Love You

Jennifer Hudson

Hoo
Ooh, yeah
Hey, yeah Ain't it strange how we call about your name
I'm at silence again, can't remember when I lost my will with it, guess is too bad is it?
But I'm letting go, I'm givin' you 'Cause I still love you
Please come back to me
I still love you
He's everything I need
I still love you
You make my life complete
I still love you 'Cause I still love you
Please come back to me
I still love you
He's everything I need
I still love you
You make my life complete
I still love you I need to breathe, I need you to succeed
I'm at silence again 'cause this love within
I can hurt the same, I'm immune to pain
If you break these chains, help me live again If I know you can shoot
I wouldn't settled with you
? I presume
You made it so true
I would risk my high if you risk yours again
Boy I'm not letting go, I'm giving in 'Cause I still love you
Please come back to me
I still love you
He's everything I need
I still love you
You make my life complete
I still love you I still love you
Please come back to me
I still love you
He's everything I need
I still love you
You make my life complete
I still love you No one ever supposed to say goodbye
We shoulda gave ourselves another try

Shoulda only be one thing, us against the win
Now I only have myself to win
And I cry beside this thing calling
Wish our feelings never changed
But I'm letting go, I'm giving in I still love you
Please come back to me
I still love you
He's everything I need
I still love you
You make my life complete
I still love you I still love you
Please come back to me
I still love you
He's everything I need
I still love you
You make my life complete
I still love you I still love you
Please come back to me
He's everything I need
You make my life complete
I still love you baby Please come back to me
I still love you
You make my life complete
I still love you, you
