

Dead Cat

Shelleyan Orphan

Dead cat car crash dearest man you lose the one you love and spring comes sun shines and life goes on around you two gravestones between them a spot of velvet green

On a day I found that you were the one who kissed my eyes then you smashed a smile up and down up and down

Your head is full of nonsense you're told that it's not serious be happy they want you to be happy emptiness is a melancholy thing when you were so sure you loved the one you wanted you were so sure.

On a day I found that you were the one
who kissed my eyes then you smashed a smile
up and down up and down
sleeping while you wake a flower in the dark but you were the one who kissed my eyes Sleeping while you wake a flower in the dark
Be happy they want you to be happy and you were so sure and you were so sure.

On a day I found that you were the one you smashed a smile up and down

Sleeping while you wake but you were the one that kissed my eyes
Sleeping while you wake a flower in the dark
up and down up and down on a day on a day on a day that you were the opne that kissed my eyes.

Lyrics submitted by Luke.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnyrics.com/>