Lead Astray

The Duskfall

I hope you creep, I hope you crawl, hope you're feeling weak.
So now you're lost like never before, I am the end, the end of it all.I feed on the weak, cause they're the easiest prey.
I lead them astray, mankind has always functioned this way.Somethings you won't ever understand, still you want to be dead as I am.
Allthings are not to be understood, so you imitate as much as you can.
Somethings you won't ever understand, still you want to be dead.
Blocked all the roads that lead you, so you imitate as much as you can.I hope you realize that there is nothing for you here.
Nightmares materialized, taking you from here to there.
Obscure as it might seem, this is absolutely real.
Purposes change rapidly, I will never kneelI feed on the weak...Somethings you won't ever understand...
