

Traitor

Street Troopers

You stand accused of treason, you offer no good reason

 You are a bloody liar, yours is the stake the fire

You say you are innocent but you be caught and spent

 And now you pay the price for avarice, your vice

Intrigue your sole desire, you sold your wife, your child

You sell your oldest friends, you sold your countrymen

 And yet we know your name

 Traitor, traitor

And now your face is shown and so your fate is known

 We have discovered you, we have uncovered you

You say you were led astray, fall on your knees and pray

 Pity is not for you, we'll make things hot for you

Our hearts we make to harden, for you there is no pardon

 For you the spike awaits upon the traitors gate

 And crows will eat your eyes

 Traitor, traitor

 Delight we find in you as we are binding you

 You look in vain for friends, you only find revenge

We give you blood and steel, we break you on the wheel

The ones you hope to sell will send you straight to Hell

 As we dismember you, we shall remember you

 You are abomination, you that betray the nation

 You shall take long to die

 Traitor, traitor
