Eternal

Dreamshade

Here, me and you, on the roof of this world
Where all the pain seems so far and noise sounds like distant echoesWatching the world change its course
Like fellas in the carnage of a retreatWe are here, hand in hand, with sparkling eyes and hearts full of hope
We are here, in the reign of serenityWe grew up in the sandiest storms, redefining our dreams
we rest here on the roof of the earth enjoying this eternal momentAs long as we'll be together, we'll be unbreakable, invincible, immortal
Together we'll never surrender: united as oneWatching the world change its course
Like fellas in the carnage of a retreatAnd we are hereWe grew up in the sandiest storms redefining our dreams
We rest here on the roof of the earth enjoying this eternal momentI've changed my life for you, I've lost my hope,I've broken hearts so hard, I'll never let you go
Eyes are crying, voices are screaming but I am still here with you
