The Victims

Element Eighty

Tell me how long until all of this breaks me
'Cause I always knew that this was ending
Everything that I tried to keep from falling
And now it's down, it's down, it's down
Inside my head where the world is spinning round
'Cause I am begging you, "Please let me go away"
Tell me why can't you make yourself release me
'Cause I always knew that this would take me underneath
Everything that I tried to keep is drowning
And now it's down, it's down, it's down
Inside my head where the world is spinning round
I am begging you, "Please let me go away"
I never knew that I was down
For so long before the world was spinning round
'Cause I am begging you, "Please let me go away"
(Now)
We are the victims now
(Now)
We are the victims now
('Cause we are falling apart again)
(Now)
Tell me how long until all of this breaks me
'Cause I always knew that this would kill me
Everything that I tried to keep from losing
And now it's down, it's down, it's down
Inside my head where the world is spinning round
Let me go away
I never knew that I was down
For so long before the world was spinning round
And I am begging you, "Please let me go away"
Inside my head where the world is spinning round
Away, let me go away
(Now)
We are the victims now
(Now)
We are the victims now
