

Trying To Matter

Gary Allan

We walk, we fly, we stay sober, we get high
We sleep all day, stay up all night
Right a wrong, and live our livesWe work, we play, we leave, and we stay
We worry about tomorrow, today
We laugh, cry, cuss and prayTryin to matter to somebody
Tryin to get the time of day
Tryin to fit into this crazy world
Somehow, somewhere, someway
And it's all we're all lookin for
It's never too late ya know
To try and matter to the ones that matter mostI've lived, I've learned that bridges don't just burn
Well that's the devil's selfish pride at work
Every chance he gets he'll take his turnTryin to matter to somebody
Tryin to get the time of day
Tryin to fit into this crazy world
Somehow, somewhere, someway
And it's all we're all lookin for
It's never too late ya know
To try and matter to the ones that matter mostTryin to matter to somebody
Tryin to get the time of day
Tryin to fit into this crazy world
Somehow, somewhere, someway
and it's all we're all lookin for
It's never too late ya know
To try and matter to the ones that matter mostIt's never too late ya knowTryin to matter to somebody

Songwriters

BEATHARD, CASEY / BLACKMON, ODIE / ALLAN, GARYPublished by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>