

The World Exploded Into Love

Bob Schneider

There is a universe that can't be seen
It's just a feeling if you know what I mean
A delectable dimension undetectable by sight
It'll fill up your heart in the dead of the night
Some say its an astral plane
Can't be described can't be explained The world exploded into love all around me
The world exploded into love all around me
And everytime I take a look around me
I have to smile Oh is our life just an illusion
There is no need to figure it out
The separation exists not in your love filled heart
But only in your mind
The real story's all around you
Even now it surrounds you
Even now I feel the power The world exploded into love all around me
The world exploded into love all around me
And everytime I take a look around me
I have to smile
