

We Kill Everything

GWAR

In the hulking halls of hatred where the Master makes his throne
Within the ass toroid belt where his body floats
Alone his mind begins to wander the worm begins to turn all life
He must now squander the universe must burnHe plans eternal war, as the eternal way
But there is a force, which he must now obey
Time and the events within, chronicles of hate and sin
Everything, it has a start, but the end is always the best partOur quest, to find the broken bits
Put them back and make them fit
And once that we have read the endThe tablet will blow up again
The tablet will blow up again
The tablet will blow up again
The tablet will blow up againAnd we'll kill everything
And we'll kill everything
And we'll kill everythingIncluding ourselves summoning the Master
Call his form most vile
Champing mass of questing flesh
Protoplasmic pileAncient hunger, never filled until the universe is killed
The endless host of merging soul sucked into the feeding hole
Guts and giblets cascade down rectal midgets, flattened ground
Please pay attention to the plot as I kick out this monster's snotSplitting skulls and raking ribs, trephinated drainage sieve
Protruding mass of reeking bile which forms infected booger pile
Assemble now the tablet hope that it's not Braille
Bring forth now the Master so we can end this taleAnd we'll kill everything
And we'll kill everything
And we'll kill everything
Especially ourselvesTransmogrify your plasmid swarm evaporate before time's storm
And dedicate your life to porn and dedicate your life to porn
You think that life has a reason? You think your god has a soul?
I bare my bum to the heavens I think a head is a holeAnd we'll kill everything
And we'll kill everything
And we'll kill everything
Including ourselves
