

Ramona

Graham Bickley

Ramona, where have you been?
I couldn't go to sleep till you came in
Ramona, you're Miss Oklahoma
And you miss Oklahoma
I'll get you what you want'Cause there were days when a refrain
Would brighten our corner of Hickory Lane
When you would sing that song for me
Just like your favorite singer And why'd you have to be so nice?
A wink and a girlish smile
And why'd you have to punch my eye?
That was something but did you want me to stay? When I was younger and thought of myself
I never dreamed I'd become like this
A snap of your fingers and end to the arguments
Anything for you, love'Cause there were days when a refrain
Would brighten our corner of Hickory Lane
When you would sing that song for me
The only one you know But I know now, not at the start
We're going to pieces, we're falling apart
So come and sing that song for me
Just like your favorite singer
