Closer

David Usher

You had to lose A funny thing the part we can't play I'd love to offer you with all the blame But now we have to choose Another round for all my friends and me Another poke at sensibility We've found out Why are we floundering? I'm drowning in the revelers sin I've taken you up on your offerings I don't even know it's good bye You had to lose Always knew that we weren't quite the same I blew it up with everyone who ever knew me Had to change A revidescent light to shine the way And we're not always following the same way out now Why are we floundering? I'm drowning in the revealer's sin I've taken you up on your offerings I don't even know it's good bye, goodbye

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/