No One Is Invincible

Inhale Exhale

I swear death is closer than you think
And hell is just a stones throw away
You work for that daily bread
And you sing a song that comforts you
The tune is useless, youre not invincibleDeath believe how sweet you are
You slave and save to be someone you dont love
Death believe how sweet you are
You slave and save to be someone you dont loveDare me to break another vow Ive made
And no one saying thank you
To the one who needs the creditYou cry when your lifes a mess
And you care when you are affected
Was there ever an ounce of doubt?
You just keep on singing that songDeath believe how sweet you are
You slave and save to be someone you dont love
Death believe how sweet you are
You slave and save to be someone you dont loveWhats the point of living if its all for yourself?
When you find another exit let me know
Whats the point of living if its all for yourself?
When you find another exit let me knowDeath believe how sweet you are
You slave and save to be someone you dont love
Death believe how sweet you are
You slave and save to be someone you dont love

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/