

Sucks

Kelley James

[chorus]

It doesn't feel like I'm in the mood to
It doesn't taste like 'oh' when it used to

I hate how I'm feeling now

It sucks when you're not around

I don't care if I get used to

All the things they I should do

I hate how I'm feeling now

It sucks when you're not around Hiding away was something

That I only did when I was a child

Until now

I've been looking around

Wondering how, I could still

Believe and allow

Myself to drown

I got used to you in a lucid place

In a perfect time, with a certain face

I'd be lucky if I could ever find

A reason not to shut myself down

Right now They say come tomorrow you'll finally realize what you needed today

I know

Faking my way through motions just a person whose emotions

Have frayed

It shows

Like a massive stone that I leave alone

On my chest it takes every breath away

I'd be lucky if I could ever find

A reason not to feel so alone

I won't Could you tell me all your reasons?

Could you leave them here tonight?

Could you break these walls?

To take me home to another kind

Of life

That's all I ever wanted

I'm locked down to the rails

But I stay tied, so you can ride

In search of something else
