

Heart of Stone (Phantasmagorical Tour 1992)

Erasure

I cry for your heart of stone
I'm gonna wait until you come home
Oh why am I all alone?
I'm as good as dead yehOoh I lost my sense of passion and direction
To protect myself from hurting and despair
Listen to my heart my soul is aching
Fool or saint?
'Cause you went and left me
And you so upset meI can't believe that you would ever find it easy
To walk away as if you'd never really cared
Did you expect that I'd give in and beg for mercy
Out in the gutter
Out in the gutterI cry for your heart of stone
I'm gonna wait until you come home
Oh why am I all alone?
I'm as good as dead yehOoh I look back on the first night with affection
And if you had a heart that you'd remember too
The way we used to run around like little children
Fool or a saint?
My mother told me
You'd be no good for meI cry for your heart of stone
I'm gonna wait until you come home
Oh why am I all alone?
I'm as good as dead yehOut in the gutter
I've got to break that heart of stoneI cry for your heart of stone
(I been worried about you baby)
Oh when am I all alone
(I been worried about you baby)
I'm as good as dead yeh
(I want you back)

Songwriters

Clarke, Edward Alan / Kilmister, Ian / Taylor, Philip JohnPublished by Lyrics Â© EMI Music Publishing, Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>