Dear Lover

Matt Pryor

Dear lover, do you remember?
The sound of your laughter and demise
And that was all, I need to fall in loveThis matter, it's something bigger
Anything ever graced my heart
And that was all, I could fall in love with you
And I can't stall this nowDid you find some happiness with me?
'Cause now, I know
The way true love should beDear lover, do you remember?
The beats of my heart that I gave you
And that was all, I need to fall in loveIt shattered, slipped through my fingers
Floated down safely into your hands
And that was all, I could fall in love with you
I can't stall this nowDid you find some happiness with me?
Now, I know
The way true love should beDid you find some happiness with me?
