

Circles

Kate Tempest

Hold on to your pride

All the roads are down there's nowhere left where we can hide or run to

    All the plans are made painted out in the gray of the pavement

But I'm a hurricane there's nowhere I will go because I'm told no no

    Give me one more kiss ' fore i jump this train whereever it's going

One more dance here with the moonbeamsond the flickering neon

    When the lights around the highest buildings make reflexionsI

    It reminds me I swear thats the shape of your smile

ref

Hold on to your pride you wont be forgotten toningt

I'll be alright Its not the world I am leaving but a rhyme with no meaning

    And you cannot hold me now I know where I belong

    I was counted out the very first steps I made

    But I wont satisfy those dark and lowering expectations

    Goodbye, look at the stars tonight

ref

Hold on to your pride the streets will be empty tonight

    You oint need to cry like a shadow ill be by your side

    But you cannot hold me now I now where i belong

    I wont fall to any lame and shallow explamation

    goodbye look at the stars tonight

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlrics.com/>