Trial and Error

Snowmine

Yeah I was sitting in the back
Smell of cigarettes and air in the summer.
Yeah you were yelling at the sky,
Hair blowing back; I think this is freedom.

Thank you for a reason to stay, stay.
I could have gone home with regrets.
But that's just how it is.
Thank you for an obvious sign.
That you'd go to these great lengths,
While I'm behind you.

Yeah I was sitting in the back
Pretending not to listen to your conversation.
Yeah you were trying not to cry
Telling him the reasons that you had the leave him.

Thank you for a reason to stay, stay.
I could have gone home with regrets.
But that's just how it is.
Thank you for an obvious sign.
That you'd go to these great lengths,
While I'm behind you.
