

Running

Champs

I fell asleep with a full on feeling
I knew I had a place to go
I fell asleep with the desert screaming
In you I saw the orange glow Children in the aisle screaming out my name
Danger in the alley, buckets full of rain
Trouble in the sky, trouble in the sea
Emptiness of you staring back at me And now I'm always running, always chasing, always hiding
And when I'm running
I see nothing but you
And when I'm running no more bones are shaking, bones are breaking
I'm only looking for you
I fell asleep with a full on feeling
I knew I had a heart to break
I fell asleep with the desert screaming
I knew I had a dream to make I can see you running faster than before
I can see a storm settle on the shore
While there's a wind blowing at my back
Devil in the sky, ready to attack And now I'm always running, always chasing, always hiding
And when I'm running I see nothing but you
And when I'm running no more bones are shaking, bones are breaking
I'm only looking for you
And now I'm always running, always chasing, always hiding
And when I'm running I see nothing but you
And now I'm always running, always chasing, always hiding
And when I'm running I see nothing but you
And now I'm always running, always chasing, always hiding
And when I'm running I see nothing but you
And now I'm always running, always chasing, always hiding
And when I'm running I see nothing but you
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>