From December

Project 86

It's the first day
Since I handed You Your final rose
In Your house
I'm staring out through Your window at our tree
Heights of which
You'll never ever know
You always
Were there to rescue me
From December
You always
Were there to rescue me
From December
In my mind's eye
I see You next to me as I'm on my knees
It's in this place
That You showed me how to ask eternity
For shelter, for comfort, for relief
You always
Were there to rescue me
From December
You always
Were there to rescue me
From December
When I see our branches stretching
To heights You'd not believe
One day these leaves will reach You
And there will be no more pain
You always gave me refuge
Unconditional
You always offered shelter
From December's snow
My chin still rests upon You
While my feet, they sway
I wonder if You'll look the same
When You embrace me on that day
You always
Were there to rescue me
From December
You always

Were there to rescue me
From December
