

Begin The End

Placebo

Look me in the eye say that again
Take me to your chest and let me in Give me mouth to mouth and make ammends
Knock me off my feet like heroin No need to disguise or to pretend
Don't misconstrue and don't misaprehend
There's nothing left no fortress to defend
And tonights the night that we begin the end, oh You and I kept looking to transcend
The fact that I was breaking to your bend
But this is now and, sadly, that was then
And tonights the night that we begin the end, oh And I tried, god knows I tried
But there's nothing you can do to change my mind
Well I tried, god knows I tried
But there's nothing you can do to change my mind And I don't enjoy to watch you crumble
I don't enjoy to watch you cry
but make no mistake
Make no mistake Look me in the eye say that again
Blame for the sorry state you're in It's not my fault if you can't comprehend that tonights the night that we begin the end, oh And I tried, god knows I tried
But there's nothing you can do to change my mind
And I tried, god knows I tried
But there's nothing you can do to change my mind And I don't enjoy to watch you crumble
I don't enjoy to watch you cry
I don't enjoy to watch you crumble
I don't enjoy to watch you cry
but make no mistake
Make no mistake Look me in the eye say that again...
